Dee Mayfield is the owner and trainer for Mayfield Health Care Seminars. Her goal is to improve life enjoyment, quality and purpose for elders by developing programs that teach and allow care providers to practice communications, service and care skills that support the elders to whom they provide care.

Dee is a certified dementia trainer and has practical experience as a family caregiver of various family members as well as experience working IN and WITH nursing homes to develop communications skills and care programs that are respectful and supportive of the needs of elders.

The LTCNA luncheon is open to anyone who supports nurses working in long term care.

There is no charge for this event, but please RSVP so that we may plan accordingly.
